

Chart of claimed identifications of the One Mighty and Strong

Date of initial claim	Identifier	Person identified as the One Mighty and Strong	Notes
Various times (1844–present)	members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Strangite)	James J. Strang	members of the Strangite church have claimed that Strang was the One Mighty and Strong who put the church in order after Joseph Smith's death ^[7]
1851	Jason W. Briggs	Joseph Smith III?	Claimed he received a revelation from God, part of which is as follows: "and in mine own due time will I call upon the seed of Joseph Smith, and will bring one forth, and he shall be mighty and strong, and he shall preside over the high priesthood of my church; and then shall the quorums assemble, and the pure in heart shall gather, and Zion shall be reinhabited". ^[8] This record became accepted as the first genuine document of the early Reorganization movement. ^[9] Joseph Smith III, however, stated, "I do not personally claim to be 'the one mighty and strong.'" ^[10]
1880	William W. Blair	Claimed that Joseph Smith III came "in the spirit of the "one mighty and strong" ^[11]	Claimed that Joseph Smith's revelation "related to his son Joseph III, who, like his father, should be sent in the spirit of the "one mighty and strong" to restore the "house of God" to "order" after it shall have been ruled out of order and the fathers plucked up out of the land of Zion because of their iniquities." ^[11] Here a distinction seems to be made between Joseph Smith III and the individual known as the "one mighty and strong", in whose spirit he "should be sent", like his father was.
1887	James Brighthouse	Self	Claimed Brigham Young was a fallen prophet and that he was the reincarnation of Adam , Enoch , Moses , David , Ezekiel , Jesus , George Washington , and Joseph Smith ^{[7][12]}
1900	Committee of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints	Possibly Jesus Christ , although left open.	"Whereas, we have received no divine communication authorizing any particular interpretation of the revelation before us; and as the Reorganized Church has never taken action upon the matter;Resolved, that we leave it an open question, to be decided as God may develop his purposes among us, while we acknowledge the leading features in it to be prominently characteristic of Jesus Christ. (Signed on behalf of said committee by chairman and secretary)" ^[13]
1904	Samuel Eastman	Self	Claimed Joseph F. Smith was a fallen prophet ^{[7][12]}
			Claimed that John Taylor had visited him as an angel and appointed him as the One Mighty and Strong;

1905	John Tanner Clark	Self	was excommunicated from the LDS Church in 1905 and continued to claim to be the One Mighty and Strong until his death in 1932. ^[14] Published a book in 1920 setting out his claims. ^{[7][12]}
1910	Alma Dayer LeBaron, Sr. and LeBaron family	Self	Claimed Joseph F. Smith was a fallen prophet ^[12]
1922	Nathaniel Baldwin	Self	^[12]
1927	Otto Fetting	John the Baptist	Fetting, an apostle in the Church of Christ (Temple Lot) , claimed that John the Baptist had appeared to him and instructed him to put the church in order by building a temple on the Temple Lot ; led to the creation of the Church of Christ (Fettingite) ^{[12][15]}
1932	Francis M. Darter	"an Indian prophet"	Claimed an Indian prophet in Yucatan had been ordained by Lorin C. Woolley and that he and his followers would wrest control of the LDS Church and put it in order ^[12]
1934	Benjamin F. LeBaron and LeBaron family	Self	Benjamin LeBaron, not Alma LeBaron, Sr., was the One Mighty and Strong ^{[7][12][15]}
1936	J. H. Sherwood	Self; renamed Jasper No. 7	Sherwood demanded to be made the presiding bishop of the LDS Church based on his literal descent from Aaron and his identity as the One Mighty and Strong; when the LDS Church refused, he began the Church of Jesus Christ of Israel ^{[7][12][15]}
1938	Joseph W. Musser	Joseph Smith	Many Mormon fundamentalists follow Musser's opinion that Smith himself was the One Mighty and Strong ^[16]
1930s	Paul Feil	Self	Claimed to be a successor to Samuel Eastman but that he, not Eastman, was the One Mighty and Strong ^{[7][12]}
1943	William A. Draves	John the Baptist	Draves broke from the Fettingites; led to the establishment of the Church of Christ with the Elijah Message, Established Anew in 1929 ^{[12][15]}
early 1950s	Theron Drew	Merl Kilgore	Drew was a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Strangite) and thought Kilgore was the One Mighty and Strong who would act as a successor to Joseph Smith and James Strang in the Strangite church; Drew abandoned his claims after just a few months ^[15]
1955	Joel F. LeBaron and LeBaron family	Self	the third of the LeBaron family to claim to be the One Mighty and Strong; led to the formation of the Church of the Firstborn of the Fulness of Times ^{[7][12][15]}
1955	Ross Wesley LeBaron	"an Indian prophet"	LeBaron believed he was sent to prepare the way for the One Mighty and Strong, who would be "an Indian prophet" ^{[12][17]}

1958	William C. Conway	Eachta Eachta Na , a nineteenth century "young white Indian" from Yucatan	Conway stated that Eachta Eachta Na was the reincarnated Joseph Smith and re-established the Kingdom of God on earth in 1890, the year the LDS Church abandoned plural marriage ^[15]
1960	LeRoy Wilson	Self	former Mormon fundamentalist ^{[7][12]}
1960	Alonzo Langford	Self	^{[7][12]}
1960	William L. Goldman	Self	^[12]
1964	Alexandre R. Caffiaux	Self	founded the Holy Church of Jesus Christ , claimed successor to Strang
1967	Ervil LeBaron	Self	LeBaron claimed that he, and not his brother Joel , was the One Mighty and Strong and rightful leader of the church; Joel was murdered upon his orders in 1972 ^{[7][15][17]}
1975	David Roberts	Self	founded the True Church of Jesus Christ Restored , claimed successor to Strang
1975	John W. Bryant	Self	In 1974, Bryant began to state that he was receiving revelations from Jesus ^[15] He claimed that John the Beloved had visited him as an angel and instructed him to form an "Order of the Ancients". ^[15] In 1975 he was taken in vision to the City of Enoch , where AUB founder Joseph White Musser and Latter Day Saint movement founder Joseph Smith ordained him to the presidency of the church and the high priesthood . ^[15] At this time, Brant claimed to be the "One Mighty and Strong" ^{[17][18]}
1977	Eugene O. Walton	Self	Walton left the Church of Jesus Christ (Cutlerite) and established the Restored Church of Jesus Christ in Independence, Missouri ^{[15][17]}
1980s	Archie D. Wood	Self	Wood left the LDS Church because it once espoused the practice of plural marriage , which Wood teaches that Joseph Smith erred in teaching. While Wood doesn't directly say he is the One Mighty and Strong, he does claims that Jesus Christ told him he was that he is a prophet named Azrael and that Azrael is the One Mighty and Strong, making an indirect link. ^[17]
1980s	Frank Miller	Self	Miller wrote several pamphlets that often condone polygamy and the Old Testament's death penalty for adultery. Bob Crossfield, (A.K.A. The prophet Onias) and former leader of the Ron and Dan Lafferty group said, "The Millers scare me. To me, they make the same kinds of claims that Ervil LeBaron did." ^[17]
			Billings is known as the developer of hydrogen-powered cars and buses. But fundamentalist leader Owen A. Allred stated that Billings also claims to be

1980s	Roger E. Billings	Self (disputed)	the One Mighty and Strong. Allred stated "Upon our arrival, Mr. Billings sat us down and demanded that we recognize him as the One Mighty and Strong." ^[17] Billings denies that he has ever claimed to be the One Mighty and Strong. ^[17]
1980s	Ron and Dan Lafferty	Self	Ron Lafferty and his brothers claimed to collectively be the One Mighty and Strong. Ron Lafferty is on death row for the 1984 murder of his sister-in-law and her baby in American Fork, Utah . ^[17]
1980s	Frederick Niels Larsen	Sect membership	Current president of the Remnant Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints , whose members believe that Larsen is the one mighty and strong. ^[19]
1983	Art Bulla	Self	Organized the Church of Jesus Christ (Bullaite) ^{[7][15][17]}
c. 1997 to present	Brian David Mitchell	Self	Going by the name Immanuel David Isaiah, Mitchell has created a book, referred to by himself as "The Book of Immanuel David Isaiah" [;] ^[20] and as "The Manifesto of Brian David Mitchell", by others: in this book, Mitchell identifies himself as the prophesied "one mighty and strong": "One who is mighty and strong I have ordained in the stead of him who was ordained of God."